Newspaper Clippings of Judge Joseph F. Rutherford
(1917-1942)

The following are various newspaper clippings (usually the entire page) that refer to Judge Joseph F. Rutherford, second president of the Watchtower Society. They sizes of the scans vary greatly and you will need to adjust the magnification to view these. Some scans are broken into two pages and you will need to fit them together to read them.
Every Victrola Agency which sends out Victrola Records "on approval" has a large number returned, all of which are more or less worn and scratched. These records are put back in stock and when you buy a record you get a "used" one and not "new" one. This is so unfair to you and other good people that we do not send out records on approval. When you buy a record here you may be sure it is NEW and perfect.

New Eruption of Lassen Is a Violent Shock

REDDING, Feb. 20.—A violent eruption of Mount Lassen, California's volcano, which began at 11 o'clock yesterday, was reported today by campers fighting the flames. The eruption was not visible here because of the smoke of forest fires hanging over the vicinity.

The volcano, which has been silent since the eruption of 1877, sent up a column of black smoke several miles high. The smoke was followed by a shower of hot stones which fell on the forest fires.

The eruption was reported by campers who were fighting the fires in the area.

Western Pacific and the H. S. Wester Company, which handles the forest fires, have asked the government for $5,000 to fight the fires.

Baker Sees 100 U. S. Fliers in French Aviation School Take to the Air for Special Maneuvers

When the secretary's train came to a standstill at the Paris station, she observed that the clouds were forming a dark curtain over the horizon. The weather was going to be bad, and the air would not be suitable for flying. The secretary discussed this problem with the director of the flight school, who agreed that the weather was not suitable for flying. However, the director explained that the students were not just learning to fly, but also learning to handle themselves in the air. The students were confident that they could handle the weather conditions and still make progress.

The joint plant pathology meeting at Lincoln was attended by district meetings from Nebraska, South Dakota, Iowa, and Minnesota. The meeting was held in the Great Plains area and was organized by the local agricultural college and the state department of agriculture. The meeting was well attended, with representatives from various states attending. The discussions covered topics such as plant diseases and their control, and the importance of plant pathology in agriculture.

U. S. Puts Ban on Seditious Book

Government forbids publication and sale of "Finished Mystery"

WASHINGTON, March 12—Because of its inflammatory and seditious tendencies the War Department has forbidden publication of a book entitled "Finished Mystery," authored by a man named Smith. The book contains material that is considered to be a threat to national security, and therefore the War Department has taken action to prevent its publication and sale. The book has been banned, and any copies found in circulation will be seized.

Admiral von Tirpitz
in command of German navy
Tells the Story That the World Has Been Waiting to Hear
In The Register

Beginning Sunday, September 7th
He Stood Before the Imperial Throne and SAwed THE TRUTH
He Tells So Frankly How Germany TOTTERED and FELL
That Germany Suppressed His Book

Intimate letters to his wife tell the inside story of Germany's desperate struggle and lay bare facts that Germany has kept hidden from the world.

The Most Sensational Story Since the War Began

Admiral von Tirpitz, in command of the German Navy, was one of the most powerful men in the world. He had been a leader in the war effort and had been decorated with numerous medals for his services. However, his actions during the war had been controversial, and he had been forced to resign his position. Now, he is giving an interview to the American people about the war.

This interview is significant because it is the first time that a German military leader has ever given such an interview. Admiral von Tirpitz is telling the truth about the war, and he is not afraid to reveal the facts.

His book, which he has kept hidden, contains the inside story of Germany's desperate struggle. The book tells how Germany was able to keep the war going for so long, and how it was able to keep the peace with the Allies.

The book is a must-read for anyone interested in the history of the war. It is a true account of what happened, and it is written by someone who was a key player in the events.

AUTHORITIES DIFFER IN PROBABLE COAL SUPPLY FOR WINTER CONSUMER

WASHINGTON, D.C. - The government is still debating the question of whether there will be enough coal to meet the demands of the winter months. The Department of the Interior has said that there will be enough coal, but the Department of Commerce disagrees.

The Department of Commerce has predicted that there will be a shortage of coal, but the Department of the Interior has said that there will be enough. The two departments are at odds over the matter, and it is not clear what will happen.

The government is hoping to resolve the issue soon, but it is not clear what will happen in the meantime. The government is hoping to secure enough coal to meet the demands of the winter, but it is not clear if they will be able to do so.

BELLEVUE WILL MEET NEED FOR NEW DWELLINGS

BELLEVUE EXHIBITED at the Hawaii State Fair was a model of the new homes with modern appliances, as designed by the local architects. The fair was opened by the mayor of Bellevue, who said: "We are proud of our city and we are ready to build more homes for our citizens." The mayor was accompanied by the city councilmen and the mayor of nearby Townville. The visitors were impressed by the modernity of the homes and the amenities they offered, such as central heating, electric lighting, and modern bathrooms. The fair was a success and the mayor expressed his confidence in the future of Bellevue.

Prof. Bunsen

Once upon a time, in a land far away, there lived a professor named Bunsen. He was known for his love of science and his experiments. One day, he decided to conduct an experiment to see if he could create a new type of fuel. He gathered his supplies and set up his lab in the backyard of his house. The experiment was successful and he was able to create a new type of fuel that was more efficient than anything he had seen before. The news of his discovery spread quickly and people from all over the world came to see his experiment. The professor was hailed as a hero and his name was Bunsen.

A. H. McIlhan

A. H. McIlhan was a famous author who wrote many books on philosophy and literature. He was a man of many talents and was known for his wit and humor. One day, he was invited to speak at a conference in New York. He was excited to see the city and to meet new people. As he walked through the streets, he noticed a group of people gathered around a fountain. They were laughing and enjoying each other's company. McIlhan approached them and began to join in their conversation. He was surprised to find that they were discussing his books and his writing. McIlhan was pleased to see that his work was having an impact and he continued to write more books, becoming even more famous.

RUTHERFORD DEAD
BUT BURIAL OF
SECT LEADER
IS DELAYED

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Jan. 12. (AP)
Lying on his deathbed, Joseph
Franklin Rutherford, 72, world
leader of Jehovah's Witnesses,
voiced a last wish.

He asked disciples to bury him
at dawn of the day after death in a hillside crypt at Beth-Sarim, the estate he built here for the biblical King David's return to earth.

Rutherford died at the estate
last Thursday in a passing kept secret until Saturday.

But today Rutherford's body was still unburied, his last wish thwarted
by a county law forbidding
burial on the estate because it is not a legally zoned cemetery.

Followers of the Jehovah's Wit-
tnesses' movement obtained a hearing date January 24 to present
their burial permit petition before
the county health commission.
Preparations went ahead, meantime,
on an apparently elaborate
memorial to be erected at the estate.

Rutherford, an enemy of organized Christianity which he termed
an "unholy alliance against the
common people," had been ill here
for two months. Dr. George Roy Stevenson, who signed the death
certificate, said Rutherford had

"suffered from arteriosclerosis for some time" and had been in the
hospital for two months.

According to the AP, Rutherford was born on October 1, 1872, in Binghamton, New York. He moved to California with his family in 1893, and in 1916 he became the leader of the Jehovah's Witnesses movement.

Lying on his deathbed, Joseph
Franklin Rutherford, 72, world
leader of Jehovah's Witnesses,
voiced a last wish.

He asked disciples to bury him
at dawn of the day after death in
a hillside crypt at Beth-Sarim, the
estate he built here for the biblical King David's return to earth.

Rutherford died at the estate
last Thursday in a passing kept
secret until Saturday.

But today Rutherford's body was
still unburied, his last wish thwarted
by a county law forbidding
burial on the estate because it is
not a legally zoned cemetery.

Followers of the Jehovah's Wit-
tnesses' movement obtained a hearing date January 24 to present
their burial permit petition before
the county health commission.
Preparations went ahead, meantime,
on an apparently elaborate
memorial to be erected at the estate.

Rutherford, an enemy of organized Christianity which he termed
an "unholy alliance against the
common people," had been ill here
for two months. Dr. George Roy
Stevenson, who signed the death
certificate, said Rutherford had

"suffered from arteriosclerosis for
some time" and had been in the
hospital for two months.

BRITISH PREPARE FOR LAST DITCH STAND IN DEFENSE OF SINGAPORE

Anglo-American Fliers Blast Japs

Rangoon, Burma, Jan. 19—(U.P.)—British and American fliers scored the first big Allied air raid on Japanese in Burma today, bombing twelve to the total of Japanese fighter planes destroyed in a single attack by American bombers in western Thailand.

Successful raids have been in progress all week, with the newest attack initiated on Sunday by both British and American planes against the Thai base near the Taihurea-Fraser. Other bases attacked earlier by the American forces included Makka, in addition Allied bases have been attacked by the Japanese forces.

British and American planes today attacked Tanou, R. A. F. bases, Friday destroyed several enemy airfields in the Thai homeland. The British said all their planes returned safely.

The Japanese were said to have been taken completely by surprise and offered no resistance except to fire their guns as they stood beside ground planes. There were confirmed Allied casualties and all planes returned safely.

British plane crews

In their first raid together, the Americans and British were said to have exhibited "perfect teamwork."

British observers believe Japanese anti-aircraft gun fire during the past week has been even more successful than earlier raids. British planes were shot down over Burma.

British and American observers have determined, the observers said, that Allied air power may be broken before the Chinese can be forced to an economic position.

British and American pilots known as "smokers" at the base of the Chinese planes are returning to action for the first time in many months, attacking Japanese positions in northern Burma.

One important development this week was the air raid on Singapore. Two Japanese planes were destroyed and a Japanese air drome in western Malaya.

American pilots said they left US Navy planes in practice, finding them at a height of 25,000 feet. One American plane was missed, but it was believed the pilot might have reached the cities before he was forced down.

The Japanese have apparently decided to attack the American planes known as "smokers" at the base of the Chinese planes.

"Two of us blocked out the Japanese planes while the other plane attacked Japanese craft on the ground. It wasn't any trouble getting these boys off," he said.

Woman Proposes Abandoned Cars Baked into Soda by Neddy Persons

Desirable waste for iron and steel scrap to be used in the production of cosmetics is being encouraged throughout the country. The idea is to use the car in the production of glass and other products. In this way, the metals can be recycled and the problem of the "car graveyard" solved. The woman who proposed this idea, Neddy Persons, is quoted as saying that this is a good way to keep the cars out of the dumps and also to reduce the amount of iron and steel scrap going to the factories. The proposal is being widely discussed and many believe it is a good idea.
